Pickle Pizza Beverly Lewis

Eric Hagel wants to do something special for his grandpa for Father's Day. But Eric is broke--and can't think of anything to make! Then he remembers his grandpa's passion for pickles. Pickles on eggs, pickles on cheese, pickles on everything. What about a pickle pizza? When the girls in the cul-de-sac agree to a taste test, they gag and choke. Eric's pizza is a flop! Now what can he do?

Mandy J. Hoffman says

This is number 8 in the Cul-De-Sac kids book series. I like this series because they are about simple events that could happen in any kid's life. Beverly Lewis also does a wonderful job of showing kids how God can be a part of their every day life as well.

Fun, silly, and sometimes downright crazy...these kids learn about friendship, kindness, talents, loving others, and much more all through the lens of scriptural principles.

While recommended for 7-10 year olds by the publisher, I read them to my 4 and 6 year old daughters and they love them. Actually, so does my 2 year old!

Mary-Jane says

Eric feels glum about Father's Day because his dad has died and because he has no money to buy something for his live-in grandfather. He joins Stacy at her art class to make something for his grandfather, but it is not finished in time. He suddenly has an idea to make pizza with pickles, his grandfather's favourite food. He makes the pizza, but some of the kids sample it and gag. Eric's grandfather finds the pizza in the fridge on Father's Day, warms it up, and loves it.

Mary says

Who liked pickles on everything? I wouldn't like pickles on eggs.
