Bucky B. Katt is leading the charge of the Highlands Kittyscouts. Bolstered by his roommates Rob Wilco (decked out in a borrowed hotel bathrobe and a Burger King crown) and Satchel Pooch (protected by a colander helmet), the trio from Get Fuzzy are ready to entertain their readers with another collection of their antics. Bucky's crazy schemes and snarky attitude play off the good hearted Satchel and the exasperated Rob to endless comic results.

I was completely unfamiliar with this comic strip, despite the fact that apparently it has a large following. I enjoyed it for the most part, though not as good as some. Hard to compete with artists such as Breathed, but I kind of liked both Bucky and Satchell. I have a thing for Siamese cats anyway. I think I will try to pick up some of his earlier books, as I got this one accidentally.

I have loved the Get Fuzzy comic since I was given an advanced copy of the first one when I worked in a Waldenbooks. I have always described the comic as being "Garfield's" grunge cousin. Bucky is a cat you love even though he says things you hate. Satchel his pooch sidekick is very naive and gets taken advantage of by Bucky multiple times. The great thing in this one is Satchel is coming into his own and starting to fight back. Their poor owner seems to be just along for the ride most times and tries to keep the peace. It's a very different type of animal weekly comic and it just drew me in.

Get Fuzzy is by far my favourite comic. Always good for many laughs and memorable characters, I loved the addition of Shakespug and Chubby Huggs in this collection!

Another fine collection of comics featuring Rob Wilco, Satchel Pooch and Bucky Katt! Bucky is up to his old tricks again: tormenting Rob and Satchel, dreaming of eating monkeys, having delusions of fame and fortune and coming up with various money-making schemes. Mac Manc McManx makes his return, along with Chubby Huggs and Fungo Squiggly, and a few new characters are added to the mix: Stank Lloyd Wrong, the feline architect; Foodar, the cat with food radar; and Shakespug, the rubber-glove wearing Pug who talks like Shakespeare.

One of my favorite comic strips and this collection didn't disappoint once again!
