A Joy to Read

This one was a joy to read. After I read the first one I rushed to read this book. I am a sucker for a strong love story. The characters in this book are so love able. I quickly became attached to Leila and Rayshon. I wanted them to stay together so badly and the story didn't disappoint. Even though they went through some times that would make most women throw in the towel, their love out last the entire moment that Karen spent trying to pawn a baby off on Rayshon so that she could get him for herself. I was sad for Devon but glad that he and Leila kept a friendship so that they we able to effectively co-parent. That's just something that is rarely seen in a divorced couple. This book had me in tears. Bravo!

Great book can't wait to read the next book

Dawn says

The story picked up seamlessly from part one. It was a smooth quick read although predictable. Grammatical errors plagued this story (tense use, and possessives) and that is so irritating to me. It takes away from the experience. Toward the last third of the book the mistakes were so much that at times I wanted to cringe. Good story but I took a star away for this reason. If I can borrow from my library I will partake on other titles from this author but I will not spend money on a book that was not edited properly.

Just finished and it was better than part 1. I couldn't stop reading because I just wanted to know what was next. As much as I love Rayshon I wanted to shake him at times and Devon, I don't hate him so much anymore. I don't want to say too much, you just have to read it for yourself. I'm officially an Anna Black fan. Luck of the Draw then onto Who Do I Run To. Great job Ms. Anna!

Loved it! I love reading books about "grown folks" with real life issues! Lots of drama, kept my attention! I will read the next book in the series, the last one actually!

Christiana says

This book was great...I love the first book..but this was way better...Anna really did her thang with this one...I love the way everything played out...The drama started from the beginning to the end...My first thought with Christa was she was wrong for even trying to date Leila's ex husband...I mean how did she expect to be her girl and date he ex...I knew there would be trouble in paradise for her...Rayshon surprised me with his actions in this book...I was always rooting for him tho and he did not disappoint me at all...At times I thought Leila was a little over board with her relationship...or friendship with Devon...I mean some of the things that happen...kind of shocked me that Rayshon did not flip out on Devon...I would've of loved to see Rayshon go to his assets...but i can see that Damon was trying to write his wrong...but it was a little to late for that...I'm glad he finally realized that...Katrina shocked me as the good villain in this book..I did not see that coming..but I did love the role she played in this book...Now that chic Karen..she really had this book on a roller coaster ride...She was the ultimate crazy....This book was a page turner ...I read it in one day....I will definitely recommend this book...

BRIEF SUMMARY

Rayson and Leila have a growing family with the growing success of Rayshon's fitness business. But with a not so happy home comes outside influence that is trying to break up a happy home.

THOUGHTS

First of all, after finishing Now You Wanna Come Back 2, I don't know who is worst, Katrina from pt.1 or Karen from pt.2. Although I would say Karen because apparently evil left one of their kids behind; that chick was evil and crazy.

In 'Now You Wanna Come Back 2', life isn't so rosy after Rayshon and Leila is now married for a few years. I felt a déjà vu moment within the beginning of the story as Leila almost had the same mood of not feeling satisfied in pt.2 as she did in pt.1. While she is sad about her business, a baby on the way and wanting more from Rayshon, she almost felt depress. Rayshon's business was thriving and that left him no time for family. The author developed both characters more from the previous book, as I thought how Leila dealt with another woman the second time around was done differently.

After the author established where everyone is currently in their life from the previous book, all hell broke lose. In stead of a love triangle, there was some serious love octagon going on with so many sides. This one loves that one, but can't have her; this one stalk that one, that one wants a relationship but always feels like the runner up, and it goes on creating one of the best dramas I have read between couples and friends. Of course, with the drama comes frustration with the actions of Rayson, Leila and Devon.

I was so angry and disappointed in Rayson, one mistake almost cost him everything. Leila was stronger but seems to have wool over her eyes when it comes to Devon. Devon, he was confusing. It was hard to figure him out, even though his intentions were clear regarding Leila. Christa, she was the most confusing friend to have, especially when she is dating your ex. Lastly, Karen, rolling my eyes.

I loved this book and I got closure with Rayson and Leila in the end, however, I didn't get closure with Devon and his situation. I am only hoping that with the kind of ending that was given, it will lead to a pt.3 and maybe Devon gets his own story; I'm starting to actually feel sorry for him-ish.

Great sequal!!!! It picks right back off from part one. More drama than the last.

Rayshon and Lelia just cant seem to enjoy their marriage soon as it get good here come another hurdle being thrown at them. This book really will have you switching emotions ever five minutes. Its also a great romance story to get away from the daily urban fiction but trip it still has all the things we love included. I cant wait for part 3 I have really enjoyed the series and the character so fair and i love how they all tie into each other. good job ANNA!!!!.

Michelle Burns says

I enjoyed reading part 2. I think they are a great couple together. I was starting to question her husband loyalty but....don't want to spoil the book. Looking forward to part 3.
