I think that the mysterys of the boxcar children are always really good. This one is really good.

First off, I read these Boxcar Children books when I was a lot younger. There were some that I would read over and over and others that I read once and chucked to the back of my bookcase. Overall, though, I loved them all.

This was one of the stranger BC books. I have never been to the Falls, but I definitely want to go now and see if things were like how the Alden family found them to be (especially the Maid of the Mists). The mystery didn't seem to be so much of a mystery for me, rather than just some events that were happening. But I do like the Holiday Special series regardless!

One of my favorite childhood series. I read all the books I could get my hands on :)

This is one of the few books in the series that I actually own (at least I think I still have the book somewhere in the house). My allowance of a buck a week back then wasn't much so it took me a month to save enough to get a book and this was one of my earliest purchases. sigh It kinda makes me miss the good old days when reading was everything and I didn't have to worry about life in general...

This is the first book that I've read in the boxcar series. I gave it 5 stars because I love mysteries. I have already read the whole series of ABC mysteries, listened to the audio books, and I loved it. I had been to Niagara Falls, and I'm learning more about it.

The mystery in this one was a bit messy and underwhelming. May be ok for kids but this is not the best if the boxcar children mysteries.

So fun to read this book with my 7 year old as we traveled to Niagara Falls for Spring Break this year!!
