Little Kids First Big Book of How Jill Esbaum

This charming reference book takes a closer look at the things that surround kids every day and how they work--from cars to vacuum cleaners, animal bodies to humans. More than 100 colorful photos are paired with age-appropriate text featuring answers to questions like "How do chameleons change color?" "How do refrigerators stay cold?" and "How does my body heal?" This book inspires kids to be curious, ask questions, and explore the world around them.

My son loves this one. Yesterday he asked, "how does popcorn pop?". So, we consulted the book of how. It's on his learning cart....great book. I'm sure all of the others are great, too, but I put the "how" book on his wish list, and his grandparents got it for him. We read this one often.

Exhausted from curious kids asking you "Why...?" or "How...?" questions? Then this book will get you some relief, filled with hundreds of colorful photos, activities, and answers for everyday questions. Plus oodles of fun facts, like tomatoes are a fruit, octopus's suction cups taste what they touch, animal poop can make electricity, etc. One of a whole series that will buy you hours of quiet time...
