Great

I liked both books. This was a great read. I have enjoyed all of the books I've read by Brenda Jackson .I also enjoyed the bonus book and plan to read more by that author. Also, I always love HEA endings which both books delivered.

In Bed with her Boss by Ms. Brenda Jackson: I really enjoyed this story. Ms. Jackson has a way of giving background on her characters without drowning out the storyline. By the time I ended the story I felt as if I knew Opal and D'marcus personally. I couldn't put it down.

Rich man's fake fiancee by Catherine Mann: this one was disappointing. I think that is because I connected to the characters in Ms. Jackson's story and was left feeling like an outsider with Ms. Mann's. The background into each character was scarce. There really was no connection and the way the two "lovebirds" fell in love left me wondering where was the build up? This one I would rate 3 stars.

Interesting! Opal knew it was a bad idea to get involved with her boss. D'marcus was moody, cranky and had way too many secrets. After his fiancee died, he refused to ever have another serious relationship again. Can Opal convince him to give love another chance?
