Never Let Go C.M. Stunich

Never Let Go, a New Adult Romance Novel Recommended for Ages 18 and Up

Book #5 in the series beginning with "Tasting Never"

Book #6: Never Did Say Releases July, 2015

I'm going home with my head held in shame. I let the anger get the best of me, watched my heart get shattered in two, and had the audacity to ignore my mistake. Love is pain. It can be beautiful, sure, but beauty always fades. I should've known better. How am I supposed to tell my sister, Beth, that all of her hard work was for nothing? That my scholarships are gone, that the money she's been sending me is gone? I've given myself no choice. I have to go home. I have to face Noah. I have to look in the mirror and face the one person that scares me the most: myself.

“Humans were made to love.. It's the only thing our species is really good at.”

I really love this series with Ty and Never and throw in Zella and Noah and I couldn't put my kindle down. I wanted to slap Zella so bad and say wake up. I can understand where Zella is coming from with Noah but damn he is so much better than Tobias. I can't wait to read what will happen next with Ty, Never and Zella and Noah.

What an emotional roller coaster!! The Regali women certainly don't have an easy time of it. They all seemed doomed to making bad choices. In the previous 4 books we saw Never finally break away from those and find true love in an unconventional way. Now its her sister's Zella time. To understand the pain Zella's in you really need to have at least read Never Can Tell. She has always been in love with Noah Scott but he was so deeply in love with her sister she knew the only thing she could ever be was second best. She went off to college to both get away from Noah and to try to break the Regali curse and get an education to become someone. But even at college she let her past define her and was involved in a turbulent relationship that ends with her getting kick out of college.

Zella broke my heart so many times with how she thought of herself. She knows deep down what she really wants but is so afraid to reach out and take it – and due to this she just keeps making bad decisions. Noah – here is the perfect man – my heart broke for him in Never Can Tell even though Never and Ty truly belong together. He tries so hard in this book to make Zella see that he does really care for her but she refuses to believe him.

If you been a fan of this series since the beginning you know each of these books are left with huge cliffhangers and this one was no exception. Yes it's cruel and unusual punishment but its so worth it.

Having just finished book 5 of this amazing series, I'm still as engossed in the trials that beset Never, Ty & their family circle, as I was from the start. C. M. Stunich writes a solid, complex & captivating story filled with with real people dealing with real life. This is a must read series.

I can't tell you what it is about this series that has me so engrossed. It could be the sex god that is Ty McCabe, it could be the crazy Regali sisters or it could just be that I Heart the f*ck out of it.

It's Zella's turn to get her story and it's one I've been dying to see unfold. There's nothing but complication when it comes to this family and this book is no different.

Zella has been in love with her sister Never's ex boyfriend for as long as she can remember, but knows she'll always be second best to the girl that got away. After sleeping with a confused and heartbroken Noah she runs off to collage. 12 months later, when life snowballs out of control and she's forced to spend Christmas with her family, it's Noah she's most concerned about letting down.

This was kind of like watching a train wreck, you know the sort, the one that has you shouting obscenities at you're kindle, because no matter what Noah tells her, no matter what deceleration of love he shows, Zella just can't come to terms with the fact that he loves her just as much as she loves him.

This fast paced, roller coaster is told from Zella's POV. It comes with a messy as hell love triangle that ends on a drama filled cliffhanger, which has left me anxiously biting my nails for more.....

"Space travel is complicated. This, this right here, this shit is easy. Humans were made to love, Zella."

Zella is Never's sister who has a great friendship that slowly developed into more with her sister's boyfriend after her sister disappeared. Never left town and never contacted anyone including Noah. Noah was thrown when Never returned in the previous books and Zella was crushed that he still loved her sister. Noah Scott is loyal, handsome, sweet, generous and a poet. Never is now happily married to Ty McCabe but Zella won't settle for second place in anyone's heart.

"Noah Scott is perfect in every way but one: he's in love with my sister."

Zella has been in a toxic relationship at college with Tobias the football team's wide receiver. They are physically abusive to one another and when he is found with drugs in his possession she is kicked out of school as the scape goat. Tobias is a character I think I'm supposed to dislike but I just couldn't. He follows Zella to Noah Scott's cabin where her whole family is there celebrating the holidays to make things right. Zella doesn't turn him away all the while Noah is trying to win her heart and getting very intimate when they have stolen time together.

"Why now and not before, when I told you to stop pursuing Never, when I kissed you for the first time? Why did you wait until after she was no longer a possibility to fall in love with me?"

Zella won't let Tobias go because he is like a shield against Noah and all she really wants is for Noah to say he loves her best.

"You can't just turn off love, Zella," Noah whispers, breaking my heart into a million pieces. "I will always love your sister, but that doesn't mean I don't love you, that I'm not in fucking love with you."

In true C.M. Stunich fashion, this story ends with a cliffhanger with everything up in the air between Zella, Noah, Tobias while Never is rushed off to the hospital. If the author actually reads this review I hope she gives Tobias a shot to grow because I found him to be a very interesting character. Although he's not a saint like Noah Scott, neither is our Zella. I'll be anxiously awaiting the next book in this series which is due to release on January 7, 2015.

It's been two whole years since I read the last book in the series and although I have forgotten certain elements and plotlines, it didn't take me long to remember all the characters that I grew to love.

Whilst the previous books have focused on Never and Ty McCabe, this is the story of sister Zella and Never's ex-boyfriend, Noah.

Zella and Noah became very close whilst Never was missing, and Zella has always had feelings for Never's Ex. When Never returned home with Ty in tow, Noah had conflicting feelings, he was both relieved and confused. After their one night stand a year prior, Zella left to go to college and vowed that she would not be second best to anyone.

"Noah Scott is perfect in every way but one: he's in love with my sister."

Now with an abusive boyfriend blackmailing her, she is spending Christmas with the rest of the Regali family at Noah's cabin where she is trying to resist the blond haired blue eyed poet, and on top of that, she is trying to keep her failures at college a secret.

I still heart the fuck out of this series, it's full of flawed characters and drama and angst but it's not over the top drama for dramas sake. It's a really addictive series with a set of interesting and diverse people who you can't help liking.

I really felt Zella's pain, she was determined to do well for herself and not be like her mother, and she was in love with a man who would always call her sister his first love. A tricky situation but I am really excited to see Noah's protective and dominating side come out in the next book. He needs to fight for her and I am confident that he will do a good job.

Also, there was lots of Ty in this one, I still love him loads<3

This is book five of the Tasting Never Series told from Zella's POV. Ends on a cliffy.

This was so frustrating!!!! The story is so dragged out, once it starts getting good, we end with a cliffhanger!!! This really should have been a novella.

Even though this is supposed to be Zella and Noah's story Ty still worms his way in there and I loved it, "hey, sorry, I was eavesdropping," he says, like it's no big deal. Never rolls her eyes but slides her fingers around his neck, pressing her face to his chest. Ty looks over at me, eyes searching. I nod my head, almost imperceptibly and his hands tighten around her waist. "let's go feed Noah," he says softly, laying his cheek against the top of her scalp. "Baby Noah that is. There's no way I'm letting Big Noah put your t in his mouth." Noah he can be a hard character to figure out and Zella she's been hurt deeply, and is in her own la la land. Noah though sure doesn't mind about being honest about a few things, "I guarantee it," he whispers back, voice still kind of gentle, even though his arms are squeezing me tight, almost too tight. "Haven't you noticed? I spent the last year working my sexual frustration out in the gym." In his own way Noah can be possessive, "Noah takes a deep breath and presses his lips against my neck. "If you ever had a baby, it'd have to be with me." The ending cut deep not knowing what's going to happen.
