Sex, Lies & Black Tie Kris Calvert

Mac Callahan has left the fast lane of the FBI, trading a firearm for tea parties with his baby girl, and dangerous raids for a game of catch with his son. Still, he fights off a nagging feeling every day. Mac is restless. When the North Star Gala, a charitable affair his wife Samantha has been planning, unexpectedly finds its way to his home in Shadeland, Alabama, he's asked to oversee security for the event filled with Washington insiders, politicians and the elite. The U.S. President and Secretary of State are coming to Lone Oak.

Finding his way back to Washington, D.C. to lead the project, he's met head on with his former life as a free-wheeling bachelor and his long-time assistant, Micah. But when Micah's sister goes missing from a college field trip, Mac walks away from the Secret Service and their plans, taking the opportunity to quench his thirst for action and the lead to find the young girl.

Expecting an open and shut case, what he discovers is far worse than he could've imagined. Deep in the darkest part of the Internet, a human trafficking ring operates so steeped in anonymity, its patrons are highly protected—all the way to Capitol Hill.

Counting down to the black tie event, Mac will face the toughest fight of his life—protecting his family and friends from politicians and government operatives who live above the law and wield the power to ruin and end lives without retribution.

When it's a twisted games of sex, lies and clandestine espionage, no one is safe, no one is to be trusted, and no one is truly unknown.

Another hit

Thank you, Kris Calvert, for another great story with Mac and Samantha. It was great to see Sam find her courage again as I love them working together. Terrific and timely story. Mimi and Cecil sealed the deal!

Great Read

I have been enjoying reading this series if book, this one is no exception. Once I pick up the book it's like getting with old friends. Characters are always interesting the the storyline keep me going, anticipating the end.

Welcome back to the lives of Sam and Mac Callahan. Ahh, it's nice to be back in their inner circle. I almost forgot how much fun they can be. Their lives have been pretty tame for the last couple of years. That all changes in this book. Mac, who's pretty much out of the Bureau, is sucked back into a high-profile case when someone near to him goes missing. Sam is left at home trying to pull together a high-profile fundraiser with only a few days' notice. The weird thing is, Mac's case involves child sex trafficking and Sam's fundraiser is to raise money to stop the very same thing. Mere coincidence, right?

This series gets better and better with each book. The mystery becomes a little deeper, the twists and turns more dangerous, and the intrigue ramps to new levels with each page you turn. This one is a little more complex than the previous books. I went from Sex, Lies, and Bourbon, which quickly became my fave in the series, to Sex, Lies, and Black Tie. I'm pretty sure there's now a tie as to which is my favorite book of the series. And, yes, that pun was intended. =P

Barn burner page turner

Holy moly these books are a real fire storm. They leave you turning the pages like a windstorm. On to the next one Wow,...just wow! Another phenomenal book in the series. Mac is semi-retired from the FBI because his wife is worried about his safety. She already buried her first husband and Mac has promised to stay away from danger. Then, before he knows what's happened, he's heading a search for his former assistant's missing sister.

This is a compelling novel that kept me turning pages just as quickly as possible. Readers should be aware that this touches on a difficult subject, that of human trafficking and slavery. The subject is handled with sensitivity and class, but could be disturbing to some readers. Actually, it should be disturbing to all of us and we all should all do anything we can to fight it.

While part of a series, this is a stand alone novel. Fans of the genre will love this book. The author is on my must read authors' list.
