The Big Weird Christopher G. Moore

The 5th novel in the internationally published Vincent Calvino series finds a beautiful American blond dead with a large bullet hole in her head. Police to discover the body in the house of her ex-boyfriend. A famous Hollywood screen-writer hires Calvino to investigate her death. Everyone except Calvino's client believes Samantha McNeal has committed suicide.

In the early days of the Internet, Sam ran with a young and wild expat crowd in Bangkok. As Calvino slides into a world where people are dead serious about sex, money and fame, he unearths a hedonistic community where the ritual of death is the ultimate high.

Jack Laschenski says

Mr. Moore is an expat living in Bangkok. He is a specialist in Noir.

Vincent Calvino is his fictional American private detective living in Bangkok.

Their Bangkok is drug, crime, and sex infested.

Expats in Bangkok are all desperate, subject to "The Sickness": the belief that sex with a bar girl can lead to happiness.

The black side of the city is artfully described. The motivations of the characters are both murky and amazing.

But it seems real.....

Cynthia says

Very good detective story with a good description of how Bangkok creeps under your skin if you stay "too long"
