Hawk and Dove Amanda Lawless

Can a Dove find love in the talons of a Hawk...

When her band is chosen to play at the Hawk & Dove summer music festival, Ellie doesn't realize how quickly things are about to change, she has no idea that her life as she knows it is about to be thrown out the window.

Trent Parker's rugged physique, razor-sharp jaw line, and gorgeous green eyes are going to ruin it all.

Somehow Ellie forgets everything she knows about Trent Parker the rock star—the womanizing, drunk, fuck-the-world musician with a terrible reputation. She's read the gossip blogs about his countless bimbo girlfriends, his bad behavior, his addictions. But the moment she meets him in the flesh, all of those impressions slip away.

He seethes of raw sex appeal and cockiness, just the kind of guy Ellie has learned to stay away from. But how can the media's version of this sex god be true? Will he let her in, past the rock star millionaire bad boy, to find the real Trent Parker, the man?

Ellie's world is about to get rocked and she has no idea how hard.

I love rock star romances and this was a lot of fun. Not too much drama and I found the characters entertaining.

I have read many NA books that the characters have so many baggage that Hawk and Dove were a nice take on meeting your one and only. very refreshing and left me giddy with what firs love feels like. I cant to see where the next story line takes me. Thank for your breath of fresh air. I want to catch a ride on their tour. I highly recommend the wonderful read.

To say that this book was a disappointment is an understatement. First off, I got intrigued with the title and I'm a sucker for beautiful covers (obviously) that's why I decided to pick this book up.

The beginning was OK but after a few pages you will get that inkling that this is gonna be one of those run of the mill 'book'?, which sadly seems to be flooding online bookstores nowadays. major sigh

I tagged this as a DNF after the third day in the so called Hawk & Dove festival. After 72 hours of meeting each other they already slept, fell in love and broke up with each other <== major eye rolling! Call in Linda Blair! And that morning confrontation with Kelly where Ellie just ran!?! Come on!
