Nesting in North Carolina (At the Altar Book 16) Kirsten Osbourne

Becca Jones is certain she is an old maid at twenty-nine. Life seems to be passing her by, but her extreme shyness makes it difficult for her to be around others. When a good friend suggests she call Dr. Lachele at Matchrimony, she agrees, determined to make some changes in her life.

Archer Hayes is sick of his mother throwing young debutantes at his feet. He isn't interested in marrying someone ten years younger than he is. He wants someone of substance who can stand up to his difficult family. After contacting Dr. Lachele, he tells her exactly what he wants, and he knows immediately after meeting Becca that the matchmaker has done a wonderful job. But will Becca be able to deal with his workaholic ways? Or will their marriage be over before it really starts?

Carrie says

Loved it

I love this series and this book was as amazing as the others. I can't wait for the next book!

Sharon says

Sweet

Archer and Becca

I enjoyed reading this semi dramatic story. I'm not totally sold on their chemistry, it seemed she was willing to settle for whatever she was given. Maybe I feel that way because I didn't like the hero. It was hard for me to see how she could fall in love with him in the beginning and be willing to do what she could for the marriage with him being a jerk and gone most of the time. Their story did have a decent and complete HEA.

Lissa Shepard says

Another wonderful love story.

The at the altar books are always fun. This was another fun romantic story by Kristen Osbourne. Don't miss this one!

Wilma K. Campbell says

I love this series. Kirsten Osbourne is a wonderful writer!

Dana A Smith says

Love this series

This story has it all. Sweet country sweetheart, powerful CEO billionaire hero, fairy matchmaker and a evil mother-in-law. Can Dr Lachel pull off one more HEA?

Diana saysLove it!

Love this series! Love this story! Becca is a wonderful character. Learning to stand up for herself yet being herself makes a great HEA.

Diane M. Plitz saysGreat book

Wonderful, light reading, very entertaining. I love a happy ending! I don't like having to use a certain number of words. I won't be reviewing any more books!

Marilyn Barton says

Becca and Archer, he was mega rich she was poor they are matched to meet at the altar. Throw in a nasty mother of the groom and spit fire grandmother of the bride makes a great read

Jeanne Reardon saysMuch like the others

But still a pretty good and easy read for snowstorm. When is she going to do book from my MN?!

Debra Miller saysAnother great book!

I really enjoyed this book. I liked the twist with the mother in law. The growing of the relationship between the two is great.

Tammy Rolle saysHillbilly Heaven

I love these meet the the altar happily ever after stories. The good doctor nails it every time. Becca and Archer are a perfect match despite his dragon of a mother. Three cheers for the purple haired fairy godmother.

Candyce Vee Zern says

Loved it!

Love these stories! Becca and Archer are great together. Dr.Michele was featured a little more then in some books and she makes it so much fun with her boogie bumps!!

Heather says

Mostly good

It was well written and a nice quick read. That said, I couldn't stand the Archer. Not a lead I enjoyed.

Love says

Fun Romance

This is a refreshing and fun romance with adorable and charming characters that will steal your heart and have you smiling from the very beginning til the end.

Mary H says

Great story

I loved the twists and turns especially at the end if the story. A country trying to change herself when no change was needed. A baby and true love.
