16-year-old Mochizuki Touya marches across the blazing desert sands toward the Burning Kingdom of Sandora. His goal? The Second Babylon. But once again, his journey is not so simple. The land is fraught with danger, and the cryptic words of an ancient doctor echo in the back of his mind. The Phrase rear their ugly heads, the dimensional boundary of the world begins to strain, and the mysterious monochrome boy, Ende, appears once more to puzzle Touya and friends. To make matters worse, a government starts to crumble, falling on the cusp of a military coup! Can Touya and his ever-growing band of adventurers stand against the combined forces of chaotic fate? Or will he finally meet his match? The curtains rise one more on a tale of swords, sorcery, and unnecessary housing renovations.

John Wilbert says

Great Series

I have thoroughly enjoyed this series so far and I'm anxiously awaiting the next volume. It is a fun read!

Eric Warren says

Things are heating up

My only two complaints are the wasted subplots. I get that the mc is op but come on the author could stand to make an arc or two. Other than that the girls are getting forgotten and that's a no no. But the story is still interesting.

Emir Girgin says

Things are getting pretty heated up with this.

I wish the anime would continue

Alec Rebert says

4.1

Getting better, I liked how the short stories tied in better to the main plot. Although I wish they spent as much time on his other betrothed girls and not just Yumina.
