Moon Over Manhasset Dakota Cassidy

Julia Lawrence is a successful small business owner. She's got a high falutin' pet boutique based in Manhasset and she's made a bundle selling designer clothes for pets.

Who would know better how to design puppy pants than a woman who's also a werewolf? Or she-wolf, as she prefers to be called.

Julia's got lots of money and it's time to invest it wisely.

Xavier Wolf is just the man to do it. He's an investment banker in his family-owned firm, Pride Investments.

He likes more about Julia than just the money she needs invested.

But Julia is a werewolf and Xavier isn't too sure he's crazy about that.

But does he always have to roar about it?

Netanella says

Julia is running a pet boutique in Manhasset, away from her "special" Adams pack, when she decides to invest her money on the stock market and meets another shifter, a were-lion. Cassidy's writing is quirky and fun, and the relationship between Julia and Xavier smolders with the conviction of two people who know what they want without the pansy "now I do, now I don't" crap. A good read from an author I'll definitely look for again.

Jenn says

interesting wont give it away but really good story line, tho the sex part needs something else seems like all the same things ect

Erin says

I never really connected with Julia.

I was amused by the Lion having a last name of Wolf. That did amuse me.

Plot was... alright. Definitely didn't have the arc that the first two had.
