[Menage Amour: Contemporary Menage a Trois Romance, M/F/M, HEA] Starting up and running a bakery is hard work, which Augusta Manning has paid her dues. On a chance meeting, Trent Blake and Hunter Simpson have become enamored by Augusta. Hunter and Trent know about the menage relationships that have sprung up in the area, so they decide they want to share the beauty. Getting her on the same page is a bit difficult since she believes the shop needs her every minute they are open. The opportunity to spend time with her also lends itself to the fact that Augusta's ex has been harassing her for money. Unfortunately, he's not alone when it comes to people wanting money from her. Her ex's loan shark has come to Kalispell to get restitution for what he owes. Can the trio start up a relationship with what is hanging over Augusta's head? Will they be able to keep her safe so they can have their cake and eat it, too?
